

OnLine!

Combine the power of the Internet with the simplicity of the telephone for compelling multi-media teleconferencing.

Using a telephone, PC and Web browser, conference participants can view documents and PowerPoint presentations, share and demonstrate applications, chat, white board, and annotate documents - all in real-time, and all in a secure environment.

OnLine! allow you to deliver high-impact PowerPoint presentations, share any document or application in real time and take your teleconference participants on guided Web tours with simple point-and-click commands.

OnLine! Real-time collaboration accelerates the decision-making process, heightens effective communication practices, and improves overall meeting productivity.
